

This comment card includes six themes that are emerging during the first portions of the visioning phase of the Blueprint Denver Update. Please use the space provided below each emerging theme to identify the key questions you think need to be answered as the preliminary vision, values and guiding principles are developed.

Healthy and Equitable Neighborhoods

Safe and inclusive neighborhoods that provide choices for accessible (geographic, financial, social, etc.) recreation, healthy food, mobility, parks and open spaces, and walkable destinations. Neighborhoods should not be copies of each other, but they should provide a basic level of services and/or amenities while celebrating their unique qualities and culture and welcoming new residents.

Well Designed Places that Strengthen our Community

New development and redevelopment should leverage existing and planned assets and amenities integrating quality design to contribute to or establish walkable and bikeable destinations for neighborhoods and districts throughout Denver.

Connected Places

In the future, all Denver residents will enjoy enhanced multi-modal connections between neighborhoods, districts, corridors, and other destinations.

Business and Economic Diversity, Growth and Access

In the future, all people living and/or working in Denver will have access to a broad range of educational, business and job opportunities that capitalize on the community's entrepreneurial spirit and culture of openness.

Stewardship of Natural Resources

To preserve our quality of life, Denver needs continued investment in programs and practices that support a resilient and sustainable city.

Accessible and Affordable Housing

To remain competitive, Denver must maintain an affordable and equitable supply of housing choices for all residents.

Additional Thoughts and Comments

Please use the space below to identify any other themes and/or questions you would like explored as the community profile is developed and the community conversation about vision, values and guiding principles continues.